SHAREHOLDER VALUE

At least once a year, I try to talk with you about the concept of "increasing Shareholder Value". In 2007, your Board and management chose to use a definition of Shareholder Value derived from the Economic Value Added (EVA) Financial System developed by Stern Stewart & Co. in 1990.

"What truly determines Shareholder Value (evidenced by stock price) is the cash, adjusted for time and risk, which an investor can expect to get back over the life of the business."

Based on the EVA system, we must develop a number called Free Cash Flow. This is the amount of cash produced each period that is available to repay debt, acquire another entity, reinvest in the business, or return to the shareholder (through dividends or stock repurchases). The updated Free Cash Flow numbers are shown below.

Cash Flow for Years 2003 – 2011

| | Net Income (Loss) | Loan Loss Provision | Capital Expenditures | Depreciation | Cash Flow | Year end Share Price |
|------|----------------------|------------------------|-------------------------|--------------|--------------|----------------------------|
| 2003 | $ (939,087) | 106,000 | (1,852,801) | 74,492 | (2,611,396) | $ 11.25 |
| 2004 | (276,981) | 147,000 | (440,297) | 178,687 | (391,591) | 13.75 |
| 2005 | 462,880 | 161,000 | (7,077) | 192,018 | 808,821 | 16.00 |
| 2006 | 887,690 | 132,000 | (71,396) | 198,437 | 1,146,731 | 18.25 |
| 2007 | 1,036,699 | 180,000 | (43,462) | 223,594 | 1,396,831 | 20.00 |
| 2008 | 1,393,163 | 180,000 | *(293,474) | 219,352 | 1,499,041 | 20.00 |
| 2009 | 1,636,286 | 180,000 | (72,295) | 238,659 | 1,982,650 | 24.25 |
| 2010 | 2,004,875 | 285,000 | (58,544) | 173,414 | 2,404,745 | 24.10 |
| 2011 | 2,282,025 | 0 | (97,685) | 170,750 | 2,355,090 | 26.50 |

*If you are wondering about the capital expenditures in 2008, we purchased a piece of property for future expansion of our drive-in bank, we built three new offices and we upgraded our website and disaster recovery system. All were necessary to ensure that our ability to grow as opportunities become available will not be restricted.

Free Cash Flow in 2011 was somewhat disappointing and requires some explanation. Net Income was up 13.8% - not bad for this environment but still a couple of percent below our goal for the year. We were not able to put any money in the Loan Loss Reserve because our auditors said that we could not justify making any provision because of the quality of our loan portfolio and our loss history (both good problems to have). Even if we had made a provision to the Loan Loss Reserve, it would have impacted our Net Income and had little effect on our Free Cash Flow number.

So what can we do to improve Net Income and Free Cash Flow? 2011 was a challenging year and 2012 is shaping up to be equally demanding. We are facing two major headwinds. The economic environment in our market area is okay. That is all I know to say – not bad but not great either. The second headwind is in our investment portfolio. We made a number of securities purchases in 2007 and 2008 (which in hindsight have worked very well) that are maturing in 2012 and 2013. As I have said before, we cannot replace the return on those investments without extending maturities to the 10-20 year range. I am just not comfortable doing that.

So what choices do we have? The only option to grow Net Income (and Free Cash Flow) is to increase our loan portfolio. To that end, we have made plans to add to our lending staff this year, at least one by March and another before the end of this year. We will keep you posted on our progress.

MANAGEMENT SUCCESSION/ DEVELOPMENT PLAN

As mentioned in the Third Quarter Shareholder Letter, we obtained some outside assistance in devising a plan to develop the people we have and ensure that there is adequate backup in all areas. We have now completed the preliminary work and will implement the plan in the second quarter of this year.

I have had a question from several shareholders that goes like this. Does this mean you are planning to retire soon? The answer is that you are stuck with me for better or worse. I have no plans to cut back or retire. I realize that it is presumptuous to assume that any of us (especially at the ripe old age of 63) have anything other than today. But I did nothing for a year due to my non-compete from the old Summit Bank days, and it is not in me to sit at home and work on my hobbies.

So you have my commitment, assuming that I am allotted more time and my health holds out, to be actively involved for 12 more years. Why 12 years? Let me explain.

I sold Trinity Bank stock to you in May 2003 for $10 per share (the book value). We are on a pace for the book value to be $20 per share by our tenth anniversary in 2013. That is only about a 7% increase each year for the ten year period. But please refer back to the performance shown on the first page. It has taken us a while to overcome the start-up loss and grow Net Income to a somewhat acceptable level. But the last five years we have averaged a Return on Equity of about 12%. If we can continue that level of performance, the Book Value of your Trinity stock will double every six years.

So if we can continue at this level (and we hope to someday earn considerably more than 12%), the Book Value of your Trinity stock will be $40 in six years and $80 in twelve years. Investors currently assign a value of 1.5 times Book Value to our stock. In other words, our current Book Value is around $17 and the last market trade for our stock was $25.50 – or about 1.5 times book. I know of no other investment I can make that has the potential to double in six years and then double again in the next six years.

I realize that what I have laid out is a steep hill to climb, but I love what I am doing (most of the time). I love who I'm doing it with – the staff, Board, and shareholders of Trinity. And I love the challenge. We have a number of advantages. The bank has good asset quality (loans and investments). The bank is very efficient (a high percentage of our revenue goes to the bottom line). We feel like we have a competitive advantage in our market because of the following factors.

1. We think we know what we are doing.
2. We can respond quickly.
3. Our products and personal service are top notch.
4. We can price competitively.

If we can get a decent market environment, we are going to knock the ball over the fence.

On a humorous (hopefully) note, in discussing what I was going to write about with a close friend, he asked if I had considered the thought that some shareholders might be ready for me to move on, not commit to 12 more years. I thought about that and I would like to respond with one of my favorite stories.

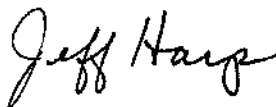

Arthur Fiedler was the world famous conductor of the Boston Pops Symphony Orchestra. Once when being introduced before a performance, he was given a rousing standing ovation. As the applause died down, one gentleman remained standing and booed loudly. The audience was startled and fell silent. Mr. Fiedler diffused the awkward moment by saying,

“Sir, personally I agree with you. But what can the two of us do against so many?”

Please accept my attempt at humor. I just wanted you to know that I am committed to Trinity Bank until the lights go out. And I also (many of you will find this hard to believe) have some humility somewhere. The banking business will give you some humility if you don't have enough. But Trinity Bank is on the road to better performance, and we are going as fast as we feel comfortable with.

Well, enough about management. I promise to talk about more salient subjects in the future letters. The next letter will talk about stock price and include a discussion about acquisition philosophy. I have enclosed the 4th Quarter press release and the financial summary. The numbers, comparatively speaking, are very good. As always, thank you for your investment in and support of Trinity Bank. If you have any questions, comments or suggested topics for discussion, I am available by email, phone or in person.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey M. Harp
President
