Trinity Bank Announces New Director, Promotion and Employee

FORT WORTH, Texas, December 7, 2012 – Jeffrey M. Harp, President of Trinity Bank, announced the election of a new bank director, an employee promotion and the addition of a new staff member.

New director Matt L. Johnson is a life-long resident of Fort Worth and owner of one of the fastest growing auto dealer groups in the nation, Holiday Auto Group, located in Whitesboro, Texas. The Holiday dealerships include Holiday Chevrolet, Holiday Ford, and Holiday Fleet and Commercial vehicles. In addition, Johnson is the owner of Napa Auto Parts of Whitesboro and Defender Supply, a nationwide builder and seller of police vehicles, parts and tactical gear.

Harp also announced the promotion of Dana Key to assistant vice-president and the addition of Angela Glidewell to the Trinity banking staff. Ms. Key joined the bank in January 2011 with six years prior banking experience, and is involved in loan preparation, loan closing, and customer service. In addition, she is responsible for stock transfers and shareholder communication. Ms. Glidewell joined Trinity in October 2012 in the loan administration area and comes to Trinity with more than seven years prior banking experience.

Harp said, “We are pleased to have Angela join us and to recognize Dana’s continued efforts and achievement. We also welcome Matt Johnson to the board of directors as one of the brightest young businessmen in Fort Worth”.
