Dear Shareholder,

It is very gratifying to observe some return on the substantial investments we have made over the past several years as we prepare for the future growth of Trinity Bank.

The Return of Assets, Return on Equity, and Capital Ratio, compared to the approximately 300 banks in our Peer Group, are shown below.

	Trinity	Peer
Return on Assets	1.83%	1.15%

Dividend

By the time you receive this letter, you should have received Trinity Bank’s 16th semiannual dividend. The $.62 per share dividend raises total dividends paid since inception to $7.61. For our original investors, this represents the return of 76% of the initial investment in the form of cash dividends. A high level of operating profit enables us to pay dividends and maintain a strong capital ratio.

New Board Member

As a part of our Board Succession Plan, we are extremely pleased to announce that W.A. Landreth III was elected to the Board of Directors at the October Board Meeting. W.A. is a lifelong resident of Fort Worth and a successful businessman. Attached is the Press Release that will give you more information on Mr. Landreth. We are excited that W.A. agreed to join our team, and we look forward to his contribution in the coming years.

Loan Growth Challenges

While we have continued to be very proactive pursuing new customers and taking care of our existing customers, loan growth has been challenging this year. We see 3 key contributors to this:

- 1) The economy remains strong in this part of the country and, as a result, our customers' earnings have been very good. This has created increased cash balances which has led several to pay down their debt ahead of schedule.
- 2) We have had a few customers who have sold assets and cashed out of investments that has led to additional payoffs.
- 3) As we mentioned in our last letter, the interest rate environment has grown increasingly competitive. Any time the Federal Reserve moves rates, it causes banks to adjust their thinking, especially when it comes to offering longer term fixed rates. In 2018, we experienced four rate increases, as Wall Street Journal Prime went from 4.50% in December of 2017 to 5.50% in December of 2018. This year, we have experienced two rate decreases; one in August and another in September that has reduced the rate back to 5.00%. There is a good chance we will see at least one more rate drop this year. This downward trend has caused a significant increase in competition on longer term, fixed rate loans amongst our competitors, especially those that are new to this market and trying to get a foothold.

While these factors present a challenge, they should also be viewed as positive for our market. They demonstrate that this is a desirable place to do business and people want to be here. Our approach remains the same. Continue to provide maximum flexibility, responsiveness and financial counsel.

Deposit Growth

The deposit side of the banking business has changed substantially over the last several years. Banks with high loan to deposit ratios are often times forced to pay above market rates to avoid having to reduce lending activity or fund loans with higher cost sources of short-term funding. Also, investment brokerage firms are offering above market rates for money market accounts to attract funds for other potential investment alternatives.

Our philosophy has always been to pay as much as we can rather than what we can get away with. We are typically not the highest payer but we also take a different approach to managing our liquidity and loan to deposit ratio, as we want our customers to feel confident with the financial position of Trinity Bank. In order to create growth over the long-run a bank must be able to increase its deposits. After all, deposits are our inventory and without inventory it is hard to create sustainable growth.

Although we are proud of our strong deposit base, our deposit balances have been relatively flat over the past 2 years. We also experienced a larger than normal decrease in deposit balances during the first 4 months of 2019 due to inclement weather in late 2018. This affected all of our construction related customers, some of whom lost 50% of the working days during that time. Since then, we have seen a nice upward trend in our deposit base that is beginning to yield some meaningful growth (up 17.0% over 3Q 2018). This is primarily the result of the good year our customers are having and new relationships we have been fortunate to establish.

Liquidity

As we mentioned in the last letter, we are now in the longest period of economic expansion since 1900. We do not know when or if it will end, although logic would indicate a correction is somewhere on the horizon even given the unprecedented level of government intervention. We intend to have healthy inventory (deposits), strong capital, exceptional profitability and good liquidity if and when a correction becomes a reality. We will average $60,000,000 in overnight investments in October. This will allow your bank the flexibility to work good people through tough times as well as get our fair share of business from banks that are operating with high loan to deposit ratios and little liquidity.

Trinity's Vision and Mission

Over the past two years, we have worked extremely hard as an organization related to succession, processes and procedures, and an overall goal to position the bank as a stable, profitable and scalable model for years to come. We have added the infrastructure physically with the bank premises and technology and added capacity by growing our team both in the number of employees and back office systems. We believe we are in a great spot for the bank to prosper in the coming years.

Two questions posed to us through this process are “Where is Trinity going?” and “How are you going to get there?” We are very pleased by our results since inception and know deep down that everything achieved to date has been accomplished due to the ever present, “three legged stool”. As you may remember, the “three legged stool” is composed of our customers, our employees, and you, the shareholders. All three legs of the stool have worked together to make us who we are. What is next and how do we thrive for years to come?

In essence, what is Trinity's Vision and what is Trinity's Mission?

A vision statement describes where a company aspires to be upon achieving its mission. This statement reveals the “where” of a business. A mission statement can be seen as an action oriented vision statement that provides the roadmap for the company's vision. It clarifies the “who”, “what”, and the “why” of a company.

We are thrilled to announce that after several brainstorming initiatives between the Trinity Leadership team and Management team, we have created a Vision and Mission statement for Trinity Bank.

THE TRINITY VISION

To be the standard of excellence for responsive, person-to-person banking in North Texas.

THE TRINITY MISSION

To build long-term banking relationships that deliver exceptional customer experiences by working with a team of trusted and knowledgeable bankers who know their customers by name, and who daily demonstrate a commitment to banking excellence.

We firmly believe in this vision and mission statement. We are different than other financial institutions, but different in a good way. Our relationships with our customers, employees, and shareholders have been, and will continue to be the game changer for us as an organization.

The next step related to the Vision and Mission statement is the roll-out to customers, employees, and shareholders to ensure everyone important to our success is on the same page. We need all “legs” of the three legged stool to be apprised of our goals and spread the message. As always, you, the shareholders are one of our life lines to our success and we would appreciate any leads on friends, family, or prospects that may benefit from a new standard of relationship banking.

Thanksgiving

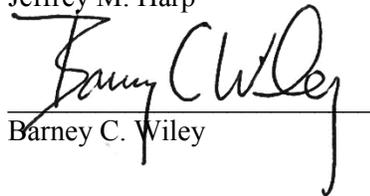

With all of the acrimony in today’s world, it is difficult at times to relax, take a deep breath, and focus on the good things in life. As Thanksgiving approaches, we commit to being thankful for all the blessings that a loving God has bestowed upon us – family, friends, business associates, a good economic environment, and the freedom to try. We deeply appreciate all of the kind comments we receive from customers and shareholders, and we strive to earn them every day.

Thank you for your support of Trinity Bank. Give someone some love and encouragement every day. If we do that, this will be a better place for all of us.

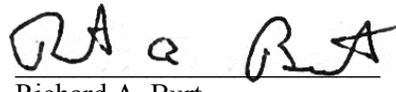

Sincerely,

Jeffrey M. Harp
